INSURANCE

Your insurance plan may cover all or part of your Cologuard test; here's a quick guide.

MEDICARE COVERS COLOGUARD

- Patients with Traditional Medicare and Medicare Advantage plans do not have any co-pays or deductible amounts.

PRIVATE INSURANCE COVERAGE VARIES BY PLAN

- Depending on your insurer and specific plan, your out-of-pocket cost for Cologuard could range from $0 to $649*.
- We highly recommend that you call your insurer directly to confirm what they will pay, what they expect you to pay, and if you or your doctor need to file any paperwork (like a prior authorization) before you use the test. You can tell them Cologuard is billed under CPT code 81528.

BILLING

- After you complete your screening test, our specialists will seek payment from your insurer.
- You will get an Explanation of Benefits after your insurance provider reviews any claim, whether they approve or deny it. THIS IS NOT A BILL.
- If your insurer does not pay in full, the remaining balance will become your responsibility.

If you have more detailed questions about your specific plan, please call your insurer directly.
