

Herbal Supplements

We do not recommend any herbal supplements during pregnancy. Most have not been studied so no safety record is available. If you are taking a supplement, please bring it to your appointment and discuss its use with your physician.